

Department of Education

Support Student Outcomes by Offering Quality Professional Development

The needs of students are constantly evolving, and so are the skill sets teachers need to thrive.

The best student experiences often include fantastic teachers who have the resources and support they need in their careers. Quality teaching today requires resiliency, adaptability and the capacity to manage change. With the flexible and effective professional development solutions available through WeLearnNYC, you can support high-quality teaching, improve student outcomes and boost teacher fulfillment.

ONE PLATFORM FOR ALL LEARNING

A single learning system means teachers share the same learning experience as students. This familiarity helps enhance the use and adoption of iLearnNYC and inspires new ideas for how technology can support classroom teaching.

A PERSONALIZED EXPERIENCE FOR ALL

Teachers have different training requirements that need to be monitored, recorded and reported. Features such as self-registration, learning pathways and release conditions allow every teacher to engage and succeed, regardless of their learning preference or accommodation needs. The flexibility and scalability of the platform means you can use WeLearnNYC to help support the professional development needs of today and tomorrow.

ALL THE POWERFUL TOOLS AND FEATURES YOU NEED

Manage enrollment quickly and assign learning with ease by using membership rules and shared attributes. Staff can monitor their learning against outcomes, reflect on progress and receive feedback from mentors or leaders.

Data and analytics dashboards can help track progress and give leadership visibility into trends. Embedded accessibility tools allow you to build engaging and inclusive content that teachers can access from any device at any time—meaning more teachers have the chance to connect and engage.

SERVICES COMPLETE THE OFFERING

Implementing a new professional development program requires training strategies and a team to support your goals. We're here to continually guide you, design success plans, enhance your strategy, uplift courses and much more.

Do you need accredited, ready-made content so you can hit the ground running? We can set you up with on-demand course options specifically built for professional development.

WeLearnNYC has the tools you need to help make a true impact on teacher development, retention, and ultimately, student success.

Start using WeLearnNYC to its full potential today >