D2L FUSION Call for Proposals

At D2L, we're committed to providing valuable in-person and on-demand presentation opportunities to our customers and partners. Presenting at D2L Fusion gives you the chance to share your knowledge with others in the learning community.

Why Present

This is your chance to showcase new ideas, trends and best practices in learning and development. You can also share inspiring stories and successes. Best of all, presenters get a discounted registration rate.

Submission Details

- You can save a draft of your proposal and make changes to it anytime. Once you submit your proposal for review, you cannot make further changes.
- We'll work with you to coordinate your presentation details. As the lead presenter, you're responsible for coordinating all aspects of your presentation with your co-presenters.
- We encourage presenters from different organizations to present together.

As the lead presenter, you must invite your co-presenters to view and edit your proposal. You can have up to three co-presenters (four presenters in total). All presenters must accept the stipulated terms and conditions.

Proposal Details

Title (maximum 100 characters)

This is your chance to grab attendees' interest. Make it count!

Abstract (maximum 350 characters)
This is the description we'll use on the event website and in the event program to help attendees understand what your presentation is about.

Description (maximum 3,000 characters)
This is the detailed overview of your presentation to help us understand your proposal. This should include topics and concepts you'll address, key takeaways, delivery style and audience engagement tactics.

Format
Choose the presentation format you prefer. Our Steering Committee may recommend a different format after reviewing your proposal.

Standard Breakout (45 minutes)
> Share your topic and engage your audience in a standard presentation setting or unique interactive activity.

Panel Presentation (45 minutes)
> Explore your topic with a panel of co-presenters and a moderator in an in-person or virtual panel setting. You'll organize the panelists and facilitate the discussion.

Discussion (45 minutes)
> Dive into your topic with your audience using prepared questions that lead to conversations, feedback and knowledge sharing in an in-person or virtual discussion setting.

Five-Minute Flare (5 minutes)
> Sum up your topic in just 15 slides, each displayed for 20 seconds before advancing (like the Pecha Kucha format). A successful Flare has interesting visuals and fluid speaking.

Lightning Session (20 minutes)
> Outline your topic in less time than a standard breakout, with a brief presentation or unique interactive activity.

Learning Exchange Showcase (60 minute poster timeslot)
> Display your topic in a concise and visually engaging poster format. Showcase your work, and engage and interact with several different audience groups walking around during the dedicated poster time.
